Demonstration of "The Lister"

In Bow Island Next March

The famous "Lister" machine and "Lister Methods" will be demonstrated in Bow Island next month, March, by one who has the interests of the Farmers and of Southern Alberta at heart.

The "Bow Island Review" which published a long account of the "Lister" in their "Reviews" of 20th. January 1922 and has published a "Reminder of it in the "Reviews" every week since then, has received the following letter from the "Friend of the Farmer"

Calgary, Alta.

22nd. February 1922
To the Editor
"Bow Island and Burdett Reviews"
Bow Island, Alta.

Dear Editor,
As I have had several letters from Farmers in the Bow Island District in regards to the "Lister" and where they could buy them, I have made arrangements to have a "Lister" in Bow Island in March, and I will be down to tell them all about it. I cannot say for sure what the "Lister" will cost until they arrive at Bow Island, but perhaps around Fifty Dollars

If you will kindly insert this in the "Bow Island & Burdett Reviews" so as to let the farmers know, I will be much obliged to you.

Hoping I will be able to make the Bow Island District a Paying Proposition for all the Farmers there. I remain,
Yours truly,
D. Nesbitt

The "Bow Island and Burdett Reviews" are sure there will be a huge crowd of Farmers out to see this great "Lister Demonstration in Bow Island next month of March

Farmers will be in Bow Island from as far as 30 or 40 miles away, as it means "Big Money" for them to know how

No be sure You don't miss this Demonstration, as it is "Money for You"

Time and Day of Demonstration when decided on, will be given in the Bow Island and Burdett Reviews, so look out for the Date

Railway News
in Brief

Montreal.—According to a circular approved by Mr. W. B. Laidlaw, Freight Traffic Manager, Canadian Pacific Railway, Mr. H. W. Gills is appointed Assistant General Manager, Eastern Lines, succeeding Mr. S. C. Hurkett, transferred to G. N. Gills entered the service of the C. P. R. on May 15th, 1920, at Mile End Station, Montreal. In June, 1920, he became assistant biller in the local Freight Department, Place Viger Station. In November, 1920, he took up the position of junior clerk at Place Viger Station. Promotions following were: December, 1920, clerk, General Freight Department, Montreal; July, 1921, clerk, divisional Freight Dept., Montreal; July, 1921, assistant chief clerk, office of Freight Traffic, Montreal; March, 1921, clerk at Freight Traffic, Montreal; September, 1921, chief clerk to Vice-President of Traffic; November, 1921, assistant Foreign Freight Agent, Montreal; from the latter position he takes up his new post.

Montreal.—A conference of the members of the Quebec District Association, commenced with the Canadian Pacific Railway, consisting of agents, freight agents, freight and passenger representatives, was held at the Place Viger Hotel, Montreal, on Saturday, February 18th, 1922. The meeting was presided over by Mr. A. P. Price, general manager, Eastern Lines, and Mr. W. B. Laidlaw, freight traffic manager, Montreal. Addressed the conference, and among those present were: Messrs. A. Savage, general superintendent; W. J. Dren, assistant superintendent; H. H. Small, general passenger agent; J. McMillan, manager C.P.R. Telegraph; F. W. McKenzie, Divisional Express, and H. H. Lynch, chairman of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Engineers. Mr. J. W. Kitchin was elected new secretary. Several subjects of a very interesting character were postponed until the next meeting.

New York.—Arrangements for securing traffic for the big addition to the Canadian Pacific fleet were made at the suggestion of the C. P. R. traffic officials. Passenger service is very important in the United States and the United States Atlantic line. New steamers with an aggregate tonnage of 100,000 tons are to be added to the C. P. R. fleet. This will mean a total of 100,000 tons for the Vancouver and the St. Lawrence route. Competition between the lines is very keen and the C. P. R. men considered plans for securing their share of the traffic. One feature will be the carrying of their own mail between the rail and steamship lines of the company. The C. P. R. will also be able to book passengers in Chicago for passage to New York. This will carry them on the steamers at Montreal or Quebec to New York via C. P. R. freight.

The addition to the steamship service as outlined at the conference will include a new forty-eight service to the Orient from Vancouver in addition to the present addition of the "Empress of Britain" and the "Empress of Asia". The new steamers will be the "Empress of Canada" and the "Empress of Australia".

First sailings will be in April. The new steamers will be exchanged into the new steamers will call at Honolulu. Details concerning this were also discussed for port connections with the new St. Lawrence route to Vancouver, Southampton and Hamburg. The "Empress of Scotland" and the "Empress of France" will be the new boats to go on this service, will then give the Canadian passenger line touch with North and Pacific. The new boats will start as early as the St. Lawrence passenger route. The "Empress of Scotland" will sail February 4th for a cruise to the Mediterranean with a large passenger list. She will return to Vancouver not April.

The Caledonia miners claimed that the conditions under which Dominion and provincial aid now can be obtained, an aid down in the Public Charities Act is degrading. Various local aid endow a resolution calling upon the provincial government to cancel the coal before the Dominion Coal Company and work the mines under provincial ownership.

Fish and Birds and Big Game

THE DUCK HUNT SEASON HAS COMMENCED AND WILL CONTINUE UNTIL DEC. 15, IN ONTARIO.

Grouse, prairie fowl, partridge, pheasants, woodcock, plover, geese, brant, rails, yellow legs and other feather folk keep the duck company and tempt the man with a gun.

Patience and aptitude in choosing a strategic position are the duck hunter's best assets, outside of ability to shoot straight. The chap, who rambles about all day long does not fare one-quarter so well as the cool, experienced hunter who looks over the situation, picks his spot and then stays put. The hot-footed man who persists in thinking that the place just over beyond is better than where he is located, always moves just in time to miss a flight right over the nook he has left. So scan the landscape, choose on a likely corner and then establish yourself. Watch the birds and learn from steady sportsmen who make it their study their line of flight and then move if you have proved that you are away from their regular channel. September in the Ontario wilds is a time of genuine delight. The days have a pleasant warmth, the nights are invigoratingly cool; one wakens refreshed and ready to attack the camp breakfast. The popularity of the Ontario hunting grounds north of Minnesota and Lake Superior, is attested by the annually increasing number of sportsmen who make it their goal.

Nipigon in western Ontario is not only a fish and bird country, it is also a land of big game. Some of the finest moose heads are brought down hereabouts while deer and every big game hunter's prize. A large new camp, opened this season at Nipigon, fills a long felt need for more abundant accommodation at that point, and Bass Lake, a few miles distant by easy portage, offers many fine camping sites and exceptional fishing.

Canada's Needs

In the course of the several articles which have appeared in this column under the above general heading, some of Canada's needs have been enumerated but only in the most general way. No attempt being made to suggest ways and means of meeting and providing for those needs. Recently, however, a little pamphlet has been issued by the Honorary Advisory Council for Scientific and Industrial Research which merits the serious consideration of the Canadian people and is worthy of the widest possible circulation. It presents at least one very practical suggestion how some of the needs referred to, more particularly in the fourth article of this series, can be met.

"The variety of work carried on among the scientists in the department is entitled 'Research and the Problems of Employment, Business Depression and National Progress in Canada.'"

"It is not a presentation but a fact that the department has been a comprehensive one."

"Not because we are thus enabled to boost of the number of our trades—there would be more value in the number of our trades."

"Not merely because our country should be able to do as many as possible of its own needs without having to ask foreign aid."

"Not merely because we should be able to do as much as possible to finish the raw material with which Nature endowed us—rather than confess our helplessness by asking foreigners to do them for us and giving them the wages and the profit on our raw materials."

"Not merely because we should be able to do as much as possible to depend on the land, for its property on any one kind of production but should divide the risk among many."

"Not because Canada should retain her most important arts and sciences within her own boundaries by encouraging for their sales that variety of occupation from engineering to farming—from chemistry to literature—which, if they want the highest awards and honors, they are still compelled nowdays to seek abroad."

"One of the serious drains on the strength of the Dominion of Canada is the annual loss of engineers—chemists, scientific farmers and technical experts—whose training paid for by Canadians in Canadian schools and universities supported by Canadian public money, this goes on to make foreign countries rich and place Canada farther in their debt for foreign goods and services."

"Monopolies of knowledge—that is, monopolies of special branches of technical knowledge—constitute one of the most powerful weapons of trade today."

"Secret agreements, embargoes, trusts and the ordinary method of 'conspiracy' in the restraint of trade, become very mild and impotent weapons when compared to such irrepressible instruments as, for example, a secret chemical formula that might be scribbled on the back of a cutting card."

"In the knowledge for international trade it is the armies of chemists and engineers that must be mobilized, drilled and directed against the parasites of unknown scientific facts. Export duties, credit leagues, intelligence departments, propaganda, espionage, and even the magic of a great fact, cannot win or cannot hold, for long, before a country whose producers are not armed with scientific knowledge of their work."

"A great manufacturing concern in the United States is able to dominate its field in at least half the world because it knows more scientific secrets of that trade than anyone else. Because, if a new concern started in opposition, it need only react like its pigeon holes for some new formulae—not otherwise convenient to accept at present—by which to raise its product one step beyond the competition of the world's rival."

"So in steel-making? So in the manufacture of electrical apparatus? So in textiles? So in chemistry? So in agriculture? So in every important branch of human industry?"

"So in Canada—as compared to other nations—everyone of our industries is threatened, and must ultimately fall under the threat of foreign domination unless it keeps pace with the advances in technical knowledge."

"So, unless we master all that is to be known regarding the nature and possibilities of our vast supplies of varied raw materials, Canadians must ultimately find themselves at the mercy of foreigners who know how to prepare our riches for purposes of commerce."

"Fifty concerns in the United States retain research departments at costs ranging from $25,000 to $2,500,000 a year. In England, France and Germany, the use for technical knowledge for purposes of trade rather than for the mere digger-out of raw materials gets the pay of a laborer. The nation that can drain its raw materials treasuries and quadruples its rewards."

"The question of Canada's future lies in the hands of the technical knowledge movement?"

"Should Canada add to her natural possessions a superior knowledge of how to use them?"

"Can the needed variety of occupations for ambitious Canadian sons and daughters be maintained unless they make some place for such knowledge and encourage those who extend it?"

"Can the gardens of Canadian taxation and the evils of unemployment be offset if Canada, in her efforts for markets and for good returns on her raw materials, does not possess the best of the instrument of technical knowledge?"

Relic Of Babylonian Times

Interesting Discovery Recently Made
In Asia Minor

The ruins of a Babylonian colony dating back 2,400 years before the Christian era, have been discovered at Kula Nya, in Asia Minor.

The ruins discovered were that of a colony which lived there was partly military and partly commercial.

Confusing descriptions give many curious details of the organization of the city, which was governed by a prince and prefect, assisted by a prince and a female prefect, while the commoners are said to have been previously equal to those of their male colleagues.

Icebreakers Sent to Russia

British Cruisers Will Endeavor to Keep Port Open

Two huge ice-breaking cruisers, the Alexander Nevsky and the Sviatoy, have just been sent to Petrograd by British naval authorities to keep that Russian port open this winter, if possible.

They were built for Russia in the world war and were used by the allies at Archangel and in the White Sea during the occupation of the Archangel district by American and other allied troops.

It is said that their names will be changed to Lenin and Trotsky. They are among the largest ice-breakers in the world and are so constructed as to break the ice around them by rolling as well as by pushing through the ice ahead of them.

A Whale Story

Passenger Sees Liner Cut Big Whale In Two

The story of a 75-foot whale, which was recently broken in two by the prow of the Italian liner Presidente Wilson, was related by passengers when the vessel docked in New York.

The President Wilson was en route from Genoa to New York in mid-Atlantic when the whale was sighted, directly across the course of the vessel. A hundred and fifty passengers lined the rails to see what would happen.

"Passenger along the port" said he saw a crash and saw the whale split in two. The water turned pink and saw the head of the whale float away. Those on the starboard all experienced the same sensation—only they saw the tail float stern.

Robbery at Burdett

Some time during the night on Wednesday Feb. 15th. "The Farmers Cash Store," run by J. Llewellyn, was entered by some person or persons unknown, who were looking for some ready cash—they found $10.00 in the cash drawer and then turned their attention to the safe, they were evidently not professionals, as they went at it in such a crude way, breaking the dial and combination in such a way that even the owner was not able to open it next morning for some time.

The burglars must have been frightened and became nervous, because they let it go at that, and all that was missing was the $10.00 and a small alarm clock.

The same night the office of the Alberta Pacific Elevator was entered but all they got there was a pair of small scissors and some postage stamps. Taking alarm at this wild and daring robbery the Village Council have hired a man to patrol the Village Streets at night, so the citizens may sleep in peace
